DOING B. & O. WORK WITH
B. & O. MEN.

That is encouraging assurance President Willard is giving the employees of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company to the effect that there is no present intention to change the system of making equipment, rolling stock or maintenance of way repairs by letting this work out to contractors.

Several railroad companies have already adopted this plan on the score of greater economy. What degree of success in attending the change has not been made public because of the fact that the new system has not been in use long enough to definitely determine the actual results.

It may safely be said, however, that the plan will result at least one loss which cannot be represented by figures, diagrams, statements or other media for illustrating comparative costs or economies. This loss will consist in depriving employees and officials of that intimate touch of relationship with each other, established through years of service together, which is an intangible but very important factor in preserving the morale of an organization.

An employee of an outside corporation, whose chief interest will be in making its contract profitable, the workers under the contract system who have previously been employees of the railroad company will have no incentive to display or develop that spirit of loyalty which, in the case of the employees of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, has given many fine demonstrations of its value to both employees and the company with incidental benefit to the public.

It is not altogether likely that on the railroads where the contract system has been adopted the same relationship has existed between employees and officials as on the Baltimore & Ohio. On this system the policy for years, and particularly under the administration of President Willard, has been to regard employees in all departments and on all parts of the system as constituting one big family. Constant and well directed effort has been put forth to encourage a disposition and a willingness to cooperate with each other and to have both officials and employees realize that their interests, as well as their responsibilities, are mutual and that the prosperity of the company can best be promoted by faithful and loyal service.

The Baltimore & Ohio Veterans Association has been especially helpful in fostering a sense of pride in being a member of the Baltimore & Ohio family and in stimulating loyalty to the company. Composed of those who have grown gray in the service and who appreciate the efforts that have been and are constantly being made to improve all the conditions of employment and to reduce its hazards, the veterans have a point of view and contact which enables them to do much in the interests of both their fellow employees and the company.

That these things have been realized has been a source of much gratification and pride to President Willard and his subordinates and, no doubt, have been largely instrumental in reaching the official decision to make no change in the time-honored system of doing all Baltimore & Ohio work with Baltimore & Ohio men.

BOOTLEGGERS' POISONS.

With the tightening up of the regulations prescribed by the Volstead Act, and the increasing difficulty of procuring stocks of genuine whisky, the bootleggers are resorting more and more to the use of deadly poisons which are concocted by themselves or their principals for sale to those who are willing to take any risk in order to appease their appetites for strong drink.

Recent chemical tests show that in the manufacture of such liquor, which is sold under counterfeit labels of old-time standard brands, use is made of one or more deadly poisonous substances. These are most frequently found by such tests to be turpentine oil, wood alcohol and formaldehyde.

Setting forth the results of the analyses, and the effects on the human body of the deleterious substances found in bootleg booze, the Washington Star says:

"According to chemical experts of the prohibition enforcement bureau, fuel oil in sufficient quantities taken steadily in even small quantities results in a super-powerful stimulation of the organic parts of the body, which causes the reactive speedy decay of these organs.

It specializes upon nervous systems attacks. It eats up the nerve tissues by overstimulating them and may eventually result in a complete nervous collapse, insanity and locomotor ataxia. There's a list of many other complications for fuel oil users, but the foregoing are the principal ones.

"Wood alcohol, according to the same authorities, simply eats away the optic nerves, rendering blindness more of a probability than a possibility. It also gets to work on the general points of the system, creating such perilous heart action that speedy death is often the result.

"Formaldehyde is a special enemy of the blood and a tissue destructive agent. It cuts into the tissues of the throat, causing pain and soreness and often results in a loss of speech. It systematically tears down the human system eventually by eating up the structural tissues.

"That's what the poison will do for one. As can be seen from this outline, the patron of the irresponsible bootlegger is liable to awaken some morning in the future writhing with tetanic convulsions or with the start of eye trouble which will end eventually in total blindness.

"The distressing point is the apparent ease with which the ingredients work their harm to health. Their work may not be discernible for some months—possibly not for a few years. But the progress against health has been going forward steadily all the while. The poison causes eventual organic breakdowns, just as serious as if the concoctions had 'knocked out' the imbecile one at the outset. The poison strikes from behind a veil, unseen and felt possibly, until too late for a remedy."

With the hospitals and graveyards being rapidly filled with victims of the so-called whisky every patriotic citizen and agency should do their utmost to aid in bringing the manufacturers and dispensers to swift and stern justice. This is a duty owed to men too weak to resist temptation no less than a duty owed to the state and nation.

With its extension into new and widespread territory the West Penn Power Company will have to annex a few words to its name if it is to properly represent the scope of its activities.

If you have not been "requested" to become a candidate for United States Senator you must realize that you are a person of comparatively little importance in your neighborhood.

President Willard is making it known that B. & O. men are good enough to do all kinds of B. & O. work.

It is understood that the "hand-picking" season will be closed after the Fayette contingent puts its "O. K." on the slate to be presented at the conference in Uniontown on Saturday.

Who is going to be fooled most by the April 1 coal strike?

THE COLLEGE TOWN.

They're turning from the college town to trump life's highways up and down. The few shall be taking them and scattering them afar, and some will sail the seven seas and learn the ocean's mysteries. And some shall plod for human life before the judgment bar.

Along the street they move in throngs, and gayly sing their college songs. A brief four years of fellowship and tutors grave and wise, and then the distance far away. The future with its hopes and fears and constant battle cries.

A few steps from the cap and gown, and some shall rise and some go down. This boy or that shall come to fame or fail with the pack, this boy or that, oh gray-beard sage, despise your wisdom and your age.

Shake the crown from off your brow and crowd you from your place.

I never walk a college street but what I feel its pride to meet. The distant future, face to face, with all that it shall bring. Here are the books which men shall write, tomorrow's splendid achievement, and the pictures which they will sing.

Here are tomorrow's strength and skill, tomorrow's truth, tomorrow's will. The seed of all that shall be done for beauty and renown; Unspoken and unripe for ink, here are the thoughts which men shall have in the cradle of our destiny is this, the college town.

Examinations in June for Pennsy Scholarships

Competitive examinations will be held next June for the awarding of two of the Frank Thomson Scholarships to sons of employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad System. All applicants must have a high school education or its equivalent. Each scholarship carries $600 annually.

The sums granted to winning applicants are paid quarterly out of the "Trust Fund," known as the Frank Thomson scholarships, which was established by the children of the late Frank Thomson, formerly president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, in memory of their father. The income of the fund is to be used to give the sons of living and deceased employees of the lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad System an opportunity to secure a technical education, to better qualify them for employment by the Pennsylvania System. The university, college or technical school selected by the candidate will be subject to company approval.

Under the rules of the examining board, application upon a blank form to be obtained from the secretary of the board must be received by them on or before May 29 next, for examination east of the Mississippi, and on or before May 22, next, for examination west of the Mississippi river.

INGROWN TOE NAIL TURNS OUT ITSELF

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgore" upon the skin surrounding the ingrown nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night. "Outgore" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing drops.—Adv.

A Business Statement that is a Great Human Record

HOW WAS IT DONE?

Records kept by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company show an extraordinary decrease in the death rate among its Industrial, or weekly premium, policy-holders. Comparing 1921 with 1911, for example, there were 55,000 less deaths in 1921 than there would have been if the 1911 death rate had prevailed.

What brought about the great saving of life?

The general public health movement—progress in medical science and sanitation—other causes, perhaps. But a very great factor has been the tremendous health campaign carried on by the Metropolitan itself. This page tells a part of the story.

FOR THE NATION'S HEALTH

144 health exhibits and emergency displays at county fairs last year; 295 "Clean-up" campaigns; agitation by Agents for health legislation; nationwide campaigns against special diseases; sickness and sanitary surveys; a study of municipal health departments; leadership of practically all American research work relating to influenza—these are some instances of the Metropolitan's activity in the interest of public health.

HOMES FOR 17,744 FAMILIES

In the investment of its funds, the Metropolitan is now giving preference to loans which will aid housing. During 1920 and 1921, the Company made and pledged loans of $68,080,017, on new dwellings and new apartment houses, providing homes for 17,744 families.

GREAT DECLINE IN DEATH RATES

The death rate among Industrial policy-holders reached its lowest point in 1921—31.9% lower than in 1911. The rate from typhoid decreased 71%; tuberculosis, 49%; Bright's disease, nearly 30%; infectious diseases of children nearly 37%. The "Expectation of Life" of white males (reckoned from age 10) increased 4 years.

PUBLIC APPRECIATION

The American people have made the Metropolitan the greatest life insurance company in the world, with $7,005,707,839 insurance in force.

It leads not only in Industrial but in Ordinary. More than half of its business in force is Ordinary—$3,802,267,274—which is more than that of any Company in the world.]

THE FUTURE

The Metropolitan will continue its endeavor to offer the best there is in life, health and accident insurance, and to save human life. Continued growth will give the Company still greater opportunities to serve the American people in insurance protection and in the conservation of life and health.

Legion Team in Poor Shape, Loses to Casey Club 36-21; Frat Defeats B. & O. Clerks

Great Interest Being Manifested in Closing Games Next Week.

TIE SOMEWHERE CERTAIN

By James M. Driscoll
Sporting Editor.

With the American Legion team safely disposed of in a game at the Parochial Hall last night, the Casey Club has only one obstacle in its path toward the championship of the City League—the Jowly Snyders. The team, however, is planning to have its full line-up present next Monday and possibly upset the Caseys, thereby clearing a “vacancy” in the first position. At present the St. Vincent and Casey Clubs are tied for the top position, and the St. Vincent crowd has to overcome the Unity Fraternity, which by winning the game, will be in the running for high honors.

The game last night was not all that was expected. The former soldiers were not hitting as well as on the previous week and when the game was half over it could be seen that unless the veterans came back strong that there was little hope for them.

Although the score does not indicate it the game was fast and had the Legion been more careful in passing the result might have been more even.

A great crowd was present to witness the game and the Casey supporters made themselves known.

The Caseys placed their strongest outfit on the floor and it would have taken the Legion at its best to beat the purple and white team. Brown and Honsberger at forward carried the brunt of the Legion offensive, but had a difficult time in getting through the guards and when there was an opportunity for an easy shot the ex-soldiers either muffed the ball or failed to pass.

The spectators thoroughly enjoyed the game, which was fast and interesting despite the fact that there was plenty of room for improvement.

The third quarter was the disastrous period for the Legion. The Casey outfit went at top speed in that span of 10 minutes and with the score safely secured, three substitutions were made. The reserves held the Legion to six points in that final stage, all secured on foul shots.

In the opening game of the evening the Unity Fraternity defeated the Baltimore & Ohio Clerks, 3-20. For these quarters the Clerks remained in the game and fought at close quarters. This was finally brought about the effort of Harnigan on the foul line and four spectacular shots from the floor by Evans. “Spectacular” is a mild way for expressing some of them, which brought a plause from the entire house. Harnigan only missed one out of seven free attempts in the last half.

The game was one of extreme close guarding until the Frat broke loose with one of its orgies of shooting which quickly brought up the score. This occurred in the final quarter when the purple and gold team scored 17 points. Every member of the team scored at least one field goal in the game.

The Unity Fraternity anticipates its greatest effort next Wednesday night at the Parochial Hall when it plays the St. Vincent team. A victory for the Frat will put it in the running for a high position and the youngsters are making early preparations for it.

To Play Off The.

Trotter is not yet out of the running for honors in the City League. Provided the Unity Fraternity is able to defeat the St. Vincent quintet next Wednesday, the aggregation from the neighboring coke town will also have a “k-in” if the team is able to defeat the Legion. Trotter, like the Unity Frat, has won four and lost two. By defeating the St. Vincent team the Frat may even up for first place and if the Trotter aggregation wins at the same time it will also have an opportunity at grabbing off a prize. There are still great possibilities in the league.

The Connellsville High School basketball team will play Dunbar Township High at Lohsenring tomorrow night. The return game will be played at the High School here on the following Friday night. Saturday night the Duquesne University High School team will play here. It will be the final Saturday night game of the season and following this the Dunbar Township return game will close the season.

Only one more week of City League basketball remains. On Monday night the Baltimore & Ohio Clerks and Capstan team clash, to be followed by the Snyder-Cayer tilt. On Wednesday night the Trotter and Legion teams play the opening contest with the Unity Fraternity-St. Vincent mix-up, to settle the final standing in the league coming last. There is certain to be a tie of some kind, either for first or second place. This depends on the winners of next week's games.

A big house witnessed the games last night and bigger crowds are expected Monday and Wednesday. The news that the full Snyder team will be out on the possibility of what such a powerful aggregation of players may do, will attract the basketball fans.

At the Y. M. C. A. tonight the Unity Frat Reserve, will play the Methodists and the Bakers and Baptists will clash. Both contests promise to be interesting especially the first, a victory in which means much for the Methodists.

How Firestone Has Reduced the Cost of Tire Service

Size	Jan. 1921 Prices	Jan. 1922 Prices	Reduction
30 x 3 Fabric	$1.75	$9.85	47%
30 x 3½ "	22.50	11.65	48%

33 x 4½ "	67.00	42.85	36%
33 x 5 "	81.50	52.15	36%

HOW the cost of building quality tires has been brought down to the lowest level in history was explained by H. S. Firestone, President of the Company, to the stockholders at the annual meeting on December 13, 1921.

1. All inventories and commitments at or below the market.

2. Increased manufacturing efficiency and volume in action reduced factory overhead 53%.

3. Selling costs reduced 38%.

Mr. Firestone stated, “This reduction in prices is made possible by our unusually advantageous buying facilities, and the enthusiasm, loyalty and determination of our 100% stockholding organization.

“Due credit must be given to Firestone dealers who are selling Firestone tires on a smaller margin of profit. This brings every Firestone saving direct to the car owner.”

“The saving through first cost plus the saving through high mileage doubles Firestone economy and is daily adding new fame to the Firestone principle of service—

THE SOISSON.

"THE GOLDEN SNAKE"—A First National picture, featuring Lewis S. Stone, opened today at this theatre and will be the feature attraction the remainder of the week. Adapted from James Oliver Curwood's fascinating story of the same name, this remarkable photoplay, with a compelling, vital, throbbing plot, fairly abounds of the charm and mystery and primitives of the Far North Country amid which the scenes are laid. Lewis Stone, as a member of the Royal Northwest Mounted selected to bring back "dead or alive" Bram Johnson, long wanted fugitive from justice, is the featured player and gives a wonderful characterization. Wallace Beery plays the hunted Bram Johnson. Ruth Renick portrays the girl Celia around whom the mystery of the golden snake and the madman of the barren centers. Others in the cast are Melbourne MacDowell, Wellington Playter, Francis MacDonald and Baby Esther Scott. A beautiful romance is interwoven in this thrilling tale of the snow country. The photography is remarkable. Night in the Arctic, a raging blizzard, Bram Johnson driving his pack of savage wolf-dogs—these are a few of the striking scenes which will linger long in the memory. "The Golden Snake," released by Associated First National, is an "extraordinary and splendid picture."

THE PARAMOUNT.

"THE GOLDEN GIFT," the feature picture today at this theatre, presents Alice Lake in the leading role. The drama unfolds in "The Golden Gift" is one to appeal to every audience. It is the story of a young singer who, deserted by her husband, tries to support herself and infant child by performing in a border cafe. But the child acts as a drag, so is given into the charge of strangers while the mother wins her way as an opera singer. But at the height of her brilliant career the child appears, causing a situation which alters all of her carefully laid plans. As the opera singer who preferred a career, Alice Lake does some of the finest acting of her many screen appearances. As leading man John Bowers was all that could be expected. Others in the cast were Marrott Hammond, Joseph Swickard, Bridget Clark, Louis Duham, Cecily Webb and Camilla Clark.

THE ORPHEUM.

"O'MALLEY OF THE MOUNTED," one of William S. Hart's latest Paramount pictures, which comes to this theatre for three days beginning today, is a real detective story with a Canadian Northwest Mounted Police officer as the real hero. Disguised as a cowboy, seeking a man killer, he crosses the border into the United States and because he knows that the man who does the deed is a wonderful rider, looks for him at the rodeo which is being held in the cow town surrounded by craggy steeps. He finds him and follows him into the outlaw's camp—the rest must be left to thrill the spectators; suffice that they will find an amazing situation handled with wonderful skill in this story which is an original by Mr. Hart, adapted and directed by Lambert Hillyer. The rodeo is a big feature. There are even thousands of people gathered in a great grandstand around the arena where riders tame bucking bronchos ride wild steers, rope and play the wild games of the cattle lands. It is an inspiring picture—one to set the blood tingling. Eva Novak is leading woman and there is a fine cast of players with one of the most effective villains imaginable.

MOTHER!

Clean Child's Bowels with "California Fig Syrup"

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, give a teaspoonful to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Advertisement

Coal Strike Will

Affect 1,000,000

In Pennsylvania

"A general coal strike affects 35 counties and immediately endangers 1,000,000 workmen," says Harry A. Mackay, chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Board.

"This not only means 375,000 idle men but at least 1,000,000 disaffected and unhappy people, for a miners' family with average at least three. In addition to this are all those who naturally sympathize with men in this immediate mining community, which undoubtedly would double this figure numerically."

"The extent of this unrest may be gathered from the figures from the Bureau of Mediation. The year 1922 witnessed 1,210 strikes in Pennsylvania, involving over 5,000,000 days lost to our productivity. These industrial movements of unrest included 141,000 males and 11,000 females, entailing a loss in wages of over $38,000,000, with no possibility of calculating the loss to the general public and to the manufacturers of this state."

MILLER MURDER CASE

Clerkin is the oldest son. At the time of the killing he was at the home of his sister, Mrs. John Livingston, at Vanderbilts, helping them to butcher. He said the 38 special revolver offered in evidence and testifies to as belonging to him, was his property but that he had not seen it for several months. He kept it lying on a shelf in his bedroom but it had disappeared from this place and he did not know where it was, he stated.

Dr. W. H. Robbins of Vanderbilts, the first physician called to the Miller home after the killing, testified that he arrived at the home about 10 o'clock in the evening and found Mrs. Miller lying on the floor and the defendant in bed. The first thing that attracted him about Miller was the fact that Miller appeared to be suffering with convulsions, the physician said. Upon examination Dr. Robbins said he found Miller's pulse to fluctuate between 128 and 136 and was of the opinion that the condition warranted Miller's being sent to a hospital. He described the wound on Miller's head, but said that he did not know whether the wound was serious or not at the time. Dr. J. H. Hazlett of Vanderbilts testified that he arrived at the Miller home about 2:30 o'clock on the afternoon following the killing and made an examination of Miller. He said he discovered a slight contusion over the left eye and after painting the wound with iodine placed a dry dressing over it. In examining the defendant's eyes, Dr. Hazlett said he asked Miller if he could see and Miller replied that he could see a little. Dr. Hazlett identified the letter addressed to S. E. Porter, Vanderbilts, as the one found in the house that night and delivered to Mr. Porter by him.

Counsel is laying much stress upon the nature of the defendant's wounds and also his condition. After testifying that he found nothing wrong with Mr. Miller Dr. Hazlett said that he could have made his escape as far as his physical condition was concerned at the time of his visit.

Mrs. Alfred Gary who resides about a half mile from the Miller home, testified that she called at the Miller home between 1 and 2 o'clock on the afternoon of the killing and found nobody at home. She said she entered the kitchen door calling "Anybody at home?" and, receiving no reply, placed some dishes upon the kitchen table which she had borrowed from Mrs. Miller, then left, going round the front of the house and not hearing or seeing anybody. She said she had worked for Mrs. Miller doing her washing, cleaning house for her and helping her in the canning season. Counsel for the defense was as yet unable to testify regarding Mr. Miller's treatment of his wife.

Four small bottles said to have contained strichnine and a book taken from the defendant's writing desk were offered in evidence without giving any testimony as yet. It was reported at the time of the killing that the defendant had attempted suicide by taking strichnine but this was discredited by physicians later. The letter said to have been written by Miller addressed to S. E. Porter which was opened in the presence of the coroner, was also introduced in evidence without any testimony.

From all indications the case will not go to the jury before Saturday. Members of the jury appear to be standing the continuing well generally. It was necessary to excuse one of them yesterday during the trial for a few minutes but it was stated that his ailment was only slight. Word was transmitted to Juror C. O. Dorr of Brownsville concerning the death of Mrs. Rachel Obey in Pittsburgh last Tuesday night. Mr. Dorr is a near kin of Mrs. Ober.

A Stubborn Cough Loses Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Evidently and simply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under the name of "The Stubborn Cough" it comes in a glass jar, 16 oz. size. No doctor can tell you a better cough syrup than you could buy pre-made for three times the money. It is perfect and children love the pleasant taste.

Pine is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "250 grains of Pine" with full directions and don't expect anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pine Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Dress of White Crepe de Chine.

built for utility. This may be true to a very limited degree. In no other branch of dress does a woman give as free rein to her love for the purely picturesque and colorful as she does in costumes of this sort.

The points of most vital interest in proceeding to plan summer clothes are the materials, styles and colors that will be used.

White costumes relieved by very bright colors or black are extremely smart and many beautiful models of this sort have been brought out by Paris dressmakers.

Is No National Holiday.

Christmas is not a national holiday. New Year's day is not a national holiday. Thanksgiving day is not a national holiday. The Fourth of July is not a national holiday. Neither is Memorial day. Neither is Washington's birthday. Neither is any other day.

There is no such day as a national holiday in the United States. A United States statute would be required to constitute a particular day as a national holiday and congress has stopped short of this action, although constitutional lawyers insist that such an act belongs to the powers of the several states and not to the general government.

The Fourth of July is not strictly a national holiday though it is a nation-wide holiday having been made a holiday by acts of all the states and by the common consent and usage of the people.

TAILLEUR IS BACK TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

Outfit Returns to Favor; Now Rivals the Coat Dress.

Question of Skirt Length is an Individual Matter—Colors Promise to Continue Subdued

The tailleur has won its way back to popularity and now rivals the coat dress. The hip-length jacket straight belted low and slightly flared has triumphed. Next in interest comes the straight sack coat, belted short and more youthful than the one just mentioned. Sash and overcoat are the dominant woolen materials. Lengths the 1812 and 1820 will always have their place. It is interesting to note that tweed is as much seen today on Fifth Avenue, New York, as in the country.

Cut-out lines rather than soft frilly effects are preferred. Laces when they are used are dainty and simple in pattern, embroideries and form and conventional, and a special play on organdie tubing appliances is noted. Good lace meditation inserts are used on some numbers, a rather intricate form of drawn work gives the lace touch to others, while the new even square mesh net is used effectively in inserts and appliques.

The puritan collar promises to be particularly good in organdie, since the vogue for this type of neckwear is already established. Straight, long revers collars for coats are being experimented with and are offered in interesting effects, as is also a vest of point lace and organdie suggestive of the gilet.

Interest is expected to center around the all-white numbers and colors, when used, are combined with white in the form of inserts or conventional embroidery in novel effects.

IN SPORT CLOTHES

No Old Standards to Prevail; Are Made for Effect.

White Costumes Relieved by Very Bright Colors or Black Are Extremely Smart.

Sport clothes for either summer or winter offer more opportunity than other costumes for a designer to give free rein to her imagination. This is notes a fashion writer, because conventions are more or less banished when it comes to this type of dress. We have no old standards that we must hold to. They are in a way like stage clothes, made up chiefly for effect.

One could not very well indulge in a white dress set off by orange, green or flaming red for a walk along a city thoroughfare, but in the country or at the seashore all is different. There is everything in the way of background to set off the picturesque and the ethereal in costume. Here is the best and the most feminine in dress finds its logical setting.

Sportswomen of the old school may proclaim such statement as is false and maintain that sportswomen in the present women are today as of yore.

IT'S NOT STRAW—JUST VAJOL

It has wonderfully been said that place through brown is a close second while, as the season advances, we will undoubtedly see the beige and gray shades predominate.
